Volume 1, No. 1, of the Mill Hall Times, with John A. Johnston, formerly of the Emporium Echo, as editor, reached our exchange table last week. We wish Bro. Johnston success in his new field.

The Northwestern Reunion Association of the P. O. S. of A. met at Punksutawney on Friday last week. About fifteen members of the P. O. S. of A. from this place drove to Punksutawney to attend the reunion.

A picnic was held about one mile from town along the Falls Creek road last Thursday in honor of Mrs. W. W. Elrick, of Ninevah, Clarion county, who was visiting relatives here. A pleasant time was reported by those present.

Dr. J. H. Murray changed his office last Thursday from the Tupper building to the one across the street occupied by Lawyer F. J. Weakley. These two practitioners of their chosen professions will use the same rooms of the building for their offices.

Mrs. Alex. Riston invited a number of young people of Reynoldsville to spend Monday evening at her home on Grant street. The affair was given in honor of Miss Eleanor Taylor, of Pittsburg, who has been visiting friends at this place. About twenty guests were present.

The Wreath of Roses, a temperance society composed of a number of little girls of the Catholic church, took the morning train to Camp Run last Thursday. They took with them baskets of provisions and the day was spent enjoying themselves as only a crowd of children at a picnic can.

The Jefferson County Christian Endeavor Union met in convention at Penfield last Thursday and Friday. Misses Belle Arnold and Maggie Butler, of this place, attended as delegates from the Sr. Society, and Misses Cornie Deible, Viola McGaw and Olive Reynolds as delegates from the Jr. Society.

A few weeks ago one of the large smoke stacks at the tannery fell down and part of it, which was in good condition, was raised in a few days for use until a new one should arrive. Last week the new part arrived and was put on top of the section used temporarily. It was also discovered that the other large stack is in bad condition and a new one has been ordered to replace it.

On last Thursday morning at 5:30 o'clock Mrs. Margaret Phillippi, of Sykesville, Pa., died of inflammation of the bowels. She was 65 years, 5 months and 22 days old at the time of her death. Funeral services were held at the Sykesville Baptist church on Saturday morning at 10.00 o'clock. Mrs. Phillippi was the mother of ten children, five of whom preceded her to the Great Beyond.

The roller skating fad, once quite popular here, which has been dead for a number of years, has been resurrected in Reynoldsville. A large room in the basement of the Reynolds block has been used for a number of afternoons and evenings by those who have hunted up their old skates, which have been lain away for so long. If the weather continues so warm it is not likely that it will become a favorite pastime.

There will be an entertainment in the M. E. church at Rathmel on Monday evening, August 24th, for the purpose of raising money for the pastor's salary. A small admission fee of ten cents will be charged. An excellent program, consisting of recitations, songs, speeches, &c., will be prepared for the entertainment. Miss Anna Hay, an elocutionist of DuBois, Rev. Hicks, of Luthersburg, and Rev. Buzz are among those who will take part in the entertainment.

New Furniture Arrived.

The furniture for the new school building arrived last week and has been stored in the old school house until the new one is made ready for it, which will be about next week.

Finger Lacerated.

Ella, little daughter of M. J. Farrell, had a finger badly lacerated on Monday. She, with a number of other small children, were playing "cirous" and her ring caught on a nail, causing her weight to hang on the one finger. After the doctor had sewed up the wound he told her she could go back and play cirous, but she replied, "No, that was the last act."

Goes to Luthersburg.

At a meeting of the Brady township, Clearfield county, school board held on Tuesday of last week, Prof. A. J. Postlewait, of this place, was elected principal of the Luthersburg high school, at a salary of $60.00 per month. Prof. Postlewait was elected some time ago as teacher in the Eldrod borough schools, McKean county, mentioned before in this paper, but will ask to be released and accept the position in the Luthersburg high school.

A Narrow Escape.

On Sunday afternoon Grayden, six-year-old son of S. S. Robinson, was seriously burned while playing in the back yard in company with Earl Barclay, a boy near his own age. The two boys were playing with some matches and in some manner Grayden's waist became ignited. The boy at once started for the house screaming as he went. Mr. Robinson heard the boy's cries and ran to meet him, and by the time he got to where his son was his clothing was all ablaze. Mr. Robinson soon succeeded in getting the fire put out, but had one hand badly burned in so doing. The boy's chest and arms were severely burned. Had no one been there to give the boy prompt assistance he would have burned to death.

Our Assistant Principal.

The following certificate was issued to N. B. Madden, the assistant principal of the Reynoldsville schools for the coming term, dated Aug. 8, 1896, and signed by County Superintendent Teltrick: "It is hereby certified that Mr. N. B. Madden is a person of good moral character and that he has passed a thorough examination in Orthography, Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, Geography, English Grammar, History of the United States, Physiology and Hygiene, Algebra, Geometry, Calculus, Trigonometry and Surveying, Zoology, Botany, Physics, Chemistry, Latin—Censar, Livy, Horace, Tacitus—Greek—Homer's Iliad, Lysias—German, Psychology, General History, Literature, and in the Theory of Teaching."

A New Doctor.

Dr. Harry B. King, son of J. C. King, M. D., a young man who was raised in Reynoldsville and who graduated from the Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, on May 15th, 1895, came home from the "Quaker City" on Saturday evening and will locate in Reynoldsville. For one year he has been practicing in the St. Marys hospital, Philadelphia, intending to come to this place in the near future. On account of the illness of his father, he came sooner than he expected and is now taking care of his father's patients. For the present Dr. H. B. King will have his office at the King residence, on Main street, until another suitable place can be secured. This young man is well and favorably known here.

Tramps Must Work.

Burgess Robertson don't propose that Reynoldsville shall be a delightful resort for "hobos." He will compel all tramps to work on the streets who loiter around the town. He has served notice on a few of that class of people and as a consequence tramps are not as numerous on the streets at present as they have been in other days. It is claimed that tramps have signs to guide one another when they enter towns so that they know where to ask for something to eat and will get a good "hand out." So it appears they have some way to warn each other of towns where they are likely to be arrested and compelled to work on the streets. The majority of them suffer the pangs of hunger than earn bread by the sweat of their brows.

Gov. Hastings Will Be Here.

Prof. G. W. Lenkerd, principal-elect of the Reynoldsville schools, received word last week from Gov. Hastings' private secretary that the Governor would be at Syracuse, N. Y., on September 3d and that if railroad transportation could be secured to enable him to get here in time, he would make an address here on Sept. 4th at the dedication of the new school building. As the railroad connections are favorable, we may expect to see the Governor of Pennsylvania in Reynoldsville on that date. A public meeting of the citizens of Reynoldsville will be held in M. M. Davis' office this Wednesday evening to make arrangements for the day's program. Every citizen of Reynoldsville should be interested in everything pertaining to the education of our people, and should make the dedication of our handsome school building a day long to be remembered in the history of the place.

K. G. E. Reunion.

The 7th annual reunion of the Knights of Golden Eagle, Northwestern District, which embraces the counties of Jefferson, Clearfield, Indiana, Clarion and Elk, will be held in Reynoldsville on Friday, August 14th. It promises to be a big day for Reynoldsville and the grandest reunion the Knights of Golden Eagle of this district have ever had. Among the speakers to be present is Grand Chief L. H. Tobin, of Philadelphia. There will be a large parade in the afternoon under the command of Chief Marshall Sir Knight E. Neff, who will assign the participants their positions in line. The following prizes will be offered: Castle having largest percentage of membership in line, $40.00; second largest $20.00, and $10.00 to the Castle coming the longest distance. Bicycle prizes: first, $5.00; second, $3.00; third, $2.00. Races free to all. A business convention will be held in the Grand Army hall. Speech in Centennial hall in the afternoon on the "Aims, Objects and Progress of the Order of Knights of Golden Eagle." Open to all. Home talent-entertainment in Centennial hall in the evening. A dance will be held in the Star building. Dinner and supper will be served in the Reynolds block for 25 cents a meal.

Saturday Evening's Arrests.

On Saturday night Burgess Robertson arrested a young man for acting in an obscene manner on Main street and started to take him to the lock-up, but the fellow did not feel inclined to go with the officer and resisted. Two comrades also interfered and all three were finally landed in the "cooler." Two of the young men paid their fines and were released. The third had been put in a cell without a lock, a piece of wood being inserted in the staple to hold the door of the cell shut. The fellow managed to break the stick and get out of his cell, and then crawled out of the building through a window.

Sometime Saturday evening a resident of Tenth street, who had been drinking, attempted to gain an entrance to a house on Pleasant avenue. On being refused admittance, he took out a revolver and began firing it. He was arrested and taken to the East end lock-up. Later he gave bail for his appearance at a hearing, to be held at the lock-up Monday evening, and was released. At the hearing he was fined $10.00 and costs, amounting in all to about $14.00, the full limit allowed for violating the ordinance regarding the shooting of fire-arms within the borough.

G. A. R. Picnic.

At a meeting of E. R. Brady Post, No. 242, G. A. R., Brookville, Pa., on Saturday evening, August 1st, 1896, it was decided to hold a soldiers' basket picnic in Humphrey's Grove, at Port Barnett, on Saturday, August 15th, next, commencing about 9 A. M., and the Commander of the Post was directed to have all comrades notified of the time and place. All members of the Post are expected to be present and assist in making this picnic a grand success, as it will be the first soldiers' picnic held in this vicinity. Members of the Relief Corps, Veteran Legion and all soldiers, whether members of any organization or not, are cordially invited to be present with baskets. The exercises will consist of music, speeches and general fun and enjoyment. The attendance of persons not soldiers will be appreciated by the old veterans.

Washington Township Teachers.

At a meeting of the Washington township school board held on Saturday, Aug. 8, the teachers were elected for the coming term as follows: Coal Glen, upper, Joseph Hunter; lower, Alice Canbie; Sterretts, Maggie McCurdy; Westville, J. W. Hunter; Beechtree, upper, J. Sterrett; lower, Pearl Laugherty; Junction, Ellwood McClelland; Smith, Edith Sterrett; Rockdale, Maggie Smith; Waite's, J. C. Smith; Hipple, T. M. Buchanan; Hornrum, Laura Cooper; Horn, Fred. A. Moore; Stevenson, Ada Hunter; Osborn, Abby Miller; Falls Creek, upper, James Hollum; room No. 2, C. M. Pifer; room No. 3, A. C. Powell; primary, Eva Hicks; Tannery, Warnick Hunter; Morrison, Ella Brennan. The above list of teachers, with the exception of one, were residents of Washington township.

Church Notices.

Under this heading will be found the subjects and texts of the pastors of the various churches of Reynoldsville for the following Sunday:

TRINITY LUTHERAN.
Rev. P. W. Metzenthin, pastor. Morning: German service. Evening: "David in Exile."

PRESBYTERIAN.
Rev. R. L. Smith will preach in the Presbyterian church next Sunday.

We will save you money and sell you shoes that wear and fit your feet. Give us a call. J. S. Morrow.

Insure with N. G. Pinney, Brookville; John Trudgen, Solicitor, Reynoldsville.

The excursion to the sea shore via Pennsylvania Railroad August 20th referred to in notice in this issue, will no doubt be well patronized. The rate is unusually low and the accommodations will be first class.

Adelsperger's Bicycle.

On Friday afternoon about three o'clock as Detective F. P. Adelsperger, of this place, was riding his bicycle about two miles from Falls Creek on the Brookwayville road, he met with a mishap which disfigured and somewhat disabled him. While riding around a turn in the road at a moderate rate of speed Mr. Adelsperger came unexpectedly upon a pile of loose gravel and sand which had been thrown on the road to fill up a washout after the recent heavy rains. When the wheel struck the sand it swerved to one side, throwing Mr. Adelsperger clear of the machine, and landing him with his face against a stump. His one eye was blackened, one side of his face badly bruised, his right wrist and hand sprained and left hand injured, to what extent he did not know. After gathering himself together he again mounted his wheel, rode to Falls Creek and came to Reynoldsville on the train which brought the money for the miners' pay, and took care of the money Friday night. Saturday morning his injuries became so painful that he visited a physician and it was learned that one of the bones in his left hand was broken. Mr. Adelsperger was on duty as nightwatchman Sunday night with one arm all bandaged up. Notwithstanding his used-up appearance he is still worth two ordinary men for keeping order, and is not to be trifled with by those who have no regard for the law.

Old Saws Re-set.

Inclined to Sing Hosannah.

One day last week while sad and dreary as we wended weak and weary across the office floor, we heard, at first, a gentle tapping, then it became an earnest rapping at our sanctum door. "Come in," we said; while yet we pondered, and in silence still we wondered what for we could be in store; then the door knob gently turning, in he walked—our cheek was burning, as we thought of crimson gore. "Are you the man who does the writing?" Then we thought there's signs of fighting, as we looked him o'er and o'er. "Sir, we are," we meekly told him, and motioned for the boys to hold him, if he tried to beat us sore. "Then you'll give me credit opposite that little debt of a dollar more. I like your paper and will take it as long as you strive to make it as good as it has been before." So seldom treated in this manner, we were inclined to sing hosannah! Only this and nothing more.

A Stray Note.

The following epistle was found in one of the A. V. waiting rooms yesterday morning. We hope that it had reached its destination before it was dropped, but for fear such might not be the case we publish it below just as it was found hoping that the one for whom it was intended will see it and be on hand at the appointed time and place:

If You Cant Stop off to night Dear meet me to morrow at 1 O'clock Where We Were the last time Where that Old tin Can lays But I would like to see you to nite Dear Bird.

Sixteen to One.

Last week's paper may have suited you, but there are others it didn't suit; this week's issue may not please you, but there are others whom it will please. Every issue of a newspaper receives its share of praise and censure—generally at a ratio of about 16 ounces of censure to one ounce of praise—but the country editor quietly attends to his business, says nothing and "saws wood."—Marienville Express.
